

Situations: Does the Law Apply to ME?

1. I am a 15-year-old gymnast. My coach has been really "touchy-feely" with me lately and it makes me uncomfortable. He said that if I don't let him touch me, he can't help me, and he won't let me compete at my upcoming competition. Is what he is doing wrong?
2. I work at a local pizza place and my coworker keeps saying very inappropriate comments to me. I have asked for it to stop, but it hasn't. They keep saying how sexy different parts of my body are. They haven't touched me, but I'm really not interested. Is there anything I can do about it?
3. My girlfriend just had a baby and I am not ready to be a father. I just got a new job and now she expects me to pay child support. Letters have come in the mail stating how much I have to pay. I plan just ignoring them, and then I can keep my money, right?
4. My baby is 3 years old and I'm living with my boyfriend. My boyfriend has hit her pretty hard a couple times and I admit I've slapped her across the face a few times because I'm just so frustrated that she doesn't behave. The neighbors have threatened to call some one to help her. It doesn't happen very often, but can we get into trouble?
5. I am 16 years old and my baby and I live with my mom. We don't get along at all. I decided to move out, but since I have no job, my baby and I are living in my car for a while. I wrap her up in a lot of blankets to stay warm and I feed her when I find food. Is there anything wrong with my decision? It's only for a little while...I hope.
6. I'm 14 and pregnant. I have just started high school, so I think adoption would be the best choice for my baby and for me. I plan on telling my parents my decision pretty soon. I don't really care what they think....it's my decision, right?
7. I was at my best friend's house and had my baby 24 hours ago while her parents were away. Nobody knew I was pregnant. I am freaking out because I can't be a mom. I want to give this baby away to a better family, but don't want everyone to know. Is there anything I can do?
8. I am 18 years old and my boyfriend and I always use a condom when we have sex but the condom broke last night. We are definitely not ready to have a kid. I want to take the "Day After Pill". Do I need a prescription for that?
9. I'm 15 and my girlfriend and I are in love. We think that we are ready to have sex. I know we should use a condom to protect against pregnancy and STDs. I'm scared to buy a condom. Where can I even go to buy them, and will I get in trouble?
10. I am 15 and my girlfriend is 16. We want to have sex. We are so in love and I am sure we will be together forever. Any problem?

Situations: Does the Law Apply to ME?

11. My boyfriend asks for me to send him a picture of me topless. I am 16 and scared because I have heard about other girls that have sent their pictures and they were shown all over school. I trust my boyfriend so there's not a reason I shouldn't send him a sext, right?
12. O.K. I did something stupid. A few weeks ago, I got drunk at a party and had unprotected sex with a guy I barely know! I don't want my parents to find out, but I have itching and it burns when I pee....What do I do?
13. We've been having sex for about 3 months now. I was on the birth control pill, but I only remember it take it a few days a week. Now I am afraid that I might be pregnant! I am 17. Will the doctor tell my parents that I got a pregnancy test?
